Subject: questions about public notice template

Hi Sherry,

As a follow-up to our discussions on posting a notice on our website by tomorrow, Annette shared comments on items 3 and 12 of the draft template we provided her. I spoke with Annette and we agreed it may be helpful for me to tee up this questions for you.

Regarding item 3 (summary of proposed action), I recognize the summary is longer than normal but we worked with the attorneys and HQ to make sure our summary covered certain information and made it as succinct as possible. This is an unusual notice and will likely be subject to litigation, and to the extent there is flexibility to keep it this length I am asking for such flexibility.

Regarding item 12 (comment due date), we do not yet know when the Federal Register will be published and the comment period will end 45 days after the publication. We plan to update the website when we know the publication date, but in the meantime, is there flexibility to simply say 45 days after date of publication, perhaps with an additional statement that the website will be updated when this information is available?

I very much appreciate the support from both you and Annette and please let me know if you have questions or wish to discuss.

Tom
